A Transformative, Leadership-Driven Approach to Avoiding Project Labor Risk

SPEAKER: Daniel Groves, CEO, Construction Industry Resources \(CIR\)

When construction projects run into labor challenges (shortages, productivity, quality, safety, retention, etc.), those issues are typically not the root cause. Quite often the cause is a lack of understanding or recognition of circumstances; and the subsequent response or lack of response usually leads to project success or failure. What is the magnitude of skilled labor risk in the current construction market? How can we improve our project planning process to identify labor risk early enough to avoid it or establish a process to minimize it? What are the tools to help us accomplish this? We’ll answer these questions and more in this session. READ DANIEL’S BIO HERE
